STRIKING SUCCESS OF PANAMA ROUTE.

Spooner Bill Passes Senate by Sixty-seven to Six—Hepburn Says House Will not Give it Forty Votes.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SPOONER BILL PROVISIONS.

(NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The Spooner substitute, as amended and adopted by the Senate today, provides that the President, through the law officers of the government, shall determine whether a clear title can be obtained to the Panama Company's property, rights and concessions. If he shall be satisfied that such title can be obtained, he shall purchase the property, rights and concessions for $40,000,000. If, in his opinion, a clear title cannot be obtained, he shall proceed to construct an isthmian canal by the Nicaragua route.

The bill further provides that a commission of seven shall be appointed by the President to supervise the work and to make arrangements for all the details of it. It also provides that bonds in the sum of $130,000,000, bearing 2 per cent. shall be issued to raise money with which to construct the canal.

The power behind canal legislation developed today, when the final vote came, and it was Panama or nothing, as far as this session of Congress is concerned. There are a good many Senators who opposed all legislation along this line, but only six of them, Senators Bate, Cockrell, Daniel, Dubois, Pettus and Vest voted against the passage of the bill. Coolidge says that this sort of a stampede will take place when the final vote comes in the House.

DEMOCRATS AND STATEROOD. WILL PUSH IF QUAY STOPS. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The expected rejection of Senator Morgan's Nicaragua Canal bill, substituting the Panama Canal bill, and passing the latter by a vote of 67 to 6, although the earlier vote on amendments, which really settled the matter, was about as close as had been predicted. The result was most satisfactory to Senators Hanna, Spooner and Allison, who had joined together to champion the Panama Canal cause, and was correspondingly depressing to Senator Morgan, who saw the results of his twenty years of work for the Nicaragua route go glimmering. He pathetically referred to that fact but took his medicine splendidly, actually voting for the Panama Canal bill upon the final ballot and immediately moving, as chairman of the Inter-oceanic Canal Committee, to the Senate chamber to meet the representatives of the two houses, looking to a settlement upon some bill that both houses will agree to, if any such settlement can be arrived at.

The bill that passed the Senate today is known as the Spooner bill, and it directs the President to get the Panama route for the canal if he can, and if he can't get the Panama route, then he is directed to get the Nicaragua route.

COMPROMISE PLAN. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Senator Quay said in the Senate today that he would not press motion to discharge the Committee on Territories from further consideration of the Omnibus Statehood Bill when it comes up next Monday. The Republican leaders have agreed that the question shall go over until the next session of Congress, with the definite understanding that the bill shall be reported early in the session, and taken up in the Senate in time to allow fair consideration of it.

MUST SHOW HIM. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Senator Platt of Connecticut, chairman of the Committee on Cuban Relations, was present early today at the White House today, where he had a conference with the President on the subject of the probable fate of the Cuban reciprocity measure in the Senate. He declined to make any statement concerning the President's views, as expressed to him, but said that, speaking entirely for himself, he would force the Senators who are holding out against reciprocity to cast their vote either with or against the party.

"There is not a beet-sugar State," said the Senator, "where, if the question was put before a Republican convention, reciprocity could not be in order. Where a lot of men are setting themselves up in opposition to their party, they should be forced to go on record by their vote."

Senator Millard of Nebraska, who opposed the reciprocity plan, was present during part of the conference, and the President remarked to him that Nebraska had endorsed his (the President's) course, and turned down his own party.

To number of callers today the President stated that he finds a sufficient endorsement of his stand on the Cuban question in the action of the conventions recently held in South Dakota, Kansas and Nebraska. To a personal friend he said he felt particularly grateful to Congressman Burket of Nebraska and Congressman Martin of South Dakota for their attitude in their conventions; also, that he took a particular pride in the endorsement from the three States above named.

It is known that the President would negotiate a treaty with Cuba, provided he had the assurance of fifty Senators that they would vote for it, but he does not want to try this expedient without a guaranty beforehand that it would carry. Those close to the President assert that his feeling now is, that if reciprocity is not granted at this time it must come sooner or later, and that those Senators who are at present opposing it eventually will be led to see that our duty and obligations toward Cuba must be carried out according to the pledges made.

The Republican Senators who favor reciprocity are not yet ready to acknowledge that nothing can be done. They say that with thirty-five votes in the caucus they do not think they could carry the measure, and they declared themselves last night against the bill. Two methods are suggested, one to negotiate a treaty with Cuba, and the other to bring in and pass the House bill.

PRESIDENT IS BENT ON ASSISTING CUBA.

WILL NOT DESIST UNTIL ALL PLEDGES ARE KEPT.

He Gives a Dinner to About a Dozen Leading Republican Senators and Discusses Ways and Means of Securing a Reduction of Duty on Cuban Products.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The President tonight gave a dinner to about a dozen leading Republican Senators favorable to Cuban reciprocity, and discussed with them the ways and means of securing a reduction of duty on Cuban products in order that the pledges made to Cuba may be redeemed. Among those at the dinner were Senators Allison, Aldrich, Hale, Spooner, Lodge and Platt. Secretary Root also was one of the guests.

The President, it can be stated, is firm and steadfast in his determination that, in some form or other, and at the earliest opportunity, there shall be secured to the new republic of Cuba a substantial reduction of the important tariff on her exports to the United States, so that her people may feel that this country has kept every promise made, and has done all that could be fairly expected to assure the permanence and prosperity to their newly-established government. How, or when, the result will be obtained, is a matter that the President must leave to future developments, but it can be stated by authority that the administration will continue unflinchingly in its endeavors until it accomplishes Cuban reciprocity in some form or other. It has not been definitely decided whether this can be brought about earlier by a bill or by a treaty, nor whether good judgment and sound policy require that the matter go over for a time.

The methods and opportunities were canvassed carefully tonight. The President will not content himself with shelving the question, now that he has urged the matter on Congress in a special message, but will take such further steps as may be calculated to secure the reduction he has urged, but not hope of his recovery is still entertained.

SILK MILLS CLOSE DOWN. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, June 19.—All but three of the silk mills in Hudson county, N. J., have closed down. About ten thousand hands are, in consequence, out of employment, and within the next twenty-four hours the number will likely reach 12,000. The direct cause of the shutting down of the mills was the dyers' strike riot in Paterson. The majority of the proprietors of the silk manufacturing establishments in Hudson county, fearing an outbreak of similar trouble here, decided, as the result of a conference to close down indefinitely.

Hill Bury the Hatchet—Harmony Urged.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, June 19.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—The Democratic party, which has been the formal insurrection of the boom for Grover Cleveland for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1934 was launched tonight at the opening of the new room of the aristocratic Tilden Club in this city. "Harmony" was the watchword, ex-President Cleveland holding one of the bump-starters and Hill another. There were more Democrats at the meeting than the club could accommodate with comfort, and they were very enthusiastic when Cleveland and Hill predicted that victory would yet be theirs.

Harmony came over from Princeton in the afternoon, and went to the home of his friend, Dr. Joseph D. Bryant. Hill came down from Albany in the morning and went at once to the Hoffman House, and there he held court all day, with a constant stream of visitors, all of whom called to tell him that they would be glad to see Democracy win a victory once more. These visitors were old-time Hill supporters, and all of them said that if they won this fall they would get offices.

UNITY THE KEYNOTE.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—M. J. NEW YORK, June 19.—Democratic unity was the keynote tonight of a great gathering of representative Democrats who had come to attend the opening of the handsome new quarters of the Tilden Club.

Addresses were made by prominent Democrats, and afterward a collation was served in the banquet hall to the distinguished guests of the evening, and a buffet supper served in the basement.

To Democracy the club was one of the most memorable for many a day, as Grover Cleveland and David B. Hill met in harmony to bury the hatchet of the factions of their party together, and a buffet supper served in the basement of the club room began to speak, and no reply was received from him.

Cleveland arrived at the clubhouse accompanied by H. D. Hotchkiss, Dr. Joseph E. Bryant and John C. Calhoun. He had scarcely got into the building when ex-Senator David B. Hill, accompanied by Lamin Kellogg, came in. Hill's eye caught Cleveland as soon as he had entered the clubhouse, and a moment later they were cordially shaking each other's hand.

Loud and prolonged applause greeted the two men as they entered the assembly room. President Dowling of the club soon began to speak, and in introducing ex-President Cleveland said:

"We have with us here tonight the greatest of living Democrats. The great speaker I have the honor of introducing to you is the successful candidate of the national campaigns, ex-President Grover Cleveland.

There was tremendous applause as Mr. Cleveland ascended the small platform. This applause wound up with three cheers and a hurrah. When quiet was restored, the former President began speaking. He said:

"I have been urged to participate in this occasion by those who have assured me that this handsome structure is to be dedicated tonight to the rehabilitation and reconstruction of the Democratic party under the inspiration of a name which during the days of Democratic strength and achievement, could hardly fail to inspire Democratic household. Such an assurance made to one who followed with hearty devotion the leadership of Samuel J. Tilden, when living, and who has since found in his career and fame the highest incentive to Democratic steadfastness, could hardly fail to tempt the temptation of my contented retirement from political activity.

"Perhaps there are those who would define my position as one of banishment instead of retirement. Against this I shall not protest. It is sufficient for me in either case that I have followed in matters of difference within our party the teachings and counsel of the great Democrat whose name party peace and harmony are tonight invoked. No confession of party sin should therefore be expected. I have none to make; nor do I crave political absolution. I am here to take counsel with you, to profess the same party faith, concerning the Democratic situation. I suppose we are all convinced that this situation might be improved, and some of us may think it is perilously undermined, but whatever the measure of its impairment may be, our condition as an organization cannot be improved by calling each other harsh names, nor by inaugurating a system of arbitrary proscription and banishment. The members of a business firm in financial embarrassment should not sit down and look in each other's faces with despair, neither will they regain financial soundness nor the confidence of the business community by recrimination and quarrel; nor will any members of the firm aid in its restoration to solvent strength by paying angry insistence upon a continuation of the business methods which have invited its embarrassment.

"The Democratic party is very far from political insolvency, but no one here should be offended by the suggestion that its capital and prospects have suffered serious injury since Mr. Tilden was elected President. Then and afterward Northern Democratic States were not rare curiosities, nor practically extinct, were quite numerous and northern Democratic Governors were now seldom seen, were frequently encountered.

"If this state of impairment exists, an instant duty presses upon the managers of the Democratic establishment; and one which they cannot evade with honor. Those of us less prominent in the party—the rank and file—are long to be led through old Democratic ways, by old Democratic victories. We were never more ready to do enthusiastic battle than now, if we can only be marshaled into the shadow of presidential defeat. It is too much to ask our leaders to avoid paths that are known to lead to disaster? It is too much to ask that proven errors be abandoned, and that we be delivered from a body of death and relieved of the burden of issues which have been killed by the decrees of the American people? Ought not we to be fed upon something better than the hunk of defeat? If these questions are met in an honest, manly fashion, I believe it will be productive of the best kind of Democratic harmony.

"In dealing with new issues we of the Democratic faith are fortunate in the simplicity of the Democratic standards and the ease with which new questions can be measured by those standards. A party based upon care of the interests of all the people, as their aggregate condition demands, with no unjust favoritism for any particular class; a party devoted to the plan of popular government, as our fathers ordained it, and for the purposes which they sought to establish; a party whose conservatism opposes dangerous and un-American experiments, and yet puts no barrier in the way of genuine and safe progress, ought to be able to deal with new conditions in a manner quite consistent with Democratic doctrine and stimulating to Democratic pulses, and instincts.

"Let us not forget, however, that it is not in the search of new and gaudy issues, nor in the interpretation of visions, that a strong and healthy Democracy displays its splendid power. Another party may thrive on the ever-shifting treatment of the ever-shifting moods of popular restlessness or by an insincere play upon unreasoning prejudice and selfishly under the Democratic party, never. Democracy has already in store the doctrines for which it has won its successful battles, and it will have them in store as long as the people are kept away from their own, and just as long as the Democratic party is in the hands of a few favorites in government.

"We are all agreed that the civil should stand for free trade in all articles controlled by the trusts. We all desire justice for Cuba and justice for the consumers of the United States also. We all stand where Jackson, Benton and Tilden stood—in favor of hard money and interest in an irredeemable paper currency.

"We all recognize the dignity of labor, and stand to demand just and adequate compensation. We are all opposed to an immense standing army, and to the sectional favoritism involved in the election of United States Senators by the people. We are all in favor of a national and legitimate government expenditure which purchases support by appeals to sordidness and greed, but which continually corrupts the public conscience.

"What, but infatuation with the vision of defeat, can explain the subordination of these things by Democrats when they prepare for battle.

"If we are to have a rehabilitation and a realignment of our party in a sense suggested, it is important that it be done openly and with no mystery or double dealing. The enthusiasm of the Democratic rank and file does not thrive on mystery. The Democratic harmony, of which we hear so much, cannot be effectively constructed by mathematical rule, nor by a formal agreement on the part of those who have been divided, that there shall be no quarrel. It grows up naturally from true Democratic principles are plainly announced; when Democratic purposes are honestly declared; when a result of those, care and enthusiasm stir the Democratic blood. It was such harmony as this, growing out of the conditions of the party, which gave us the Democratic victory of 1876 against the great Republican party, and against an organized force of brass and desperate enough to take from us by downright robbery what the voters of the land gave to us.

"I believe the times point to another Democratic opportunity at no far hand, but I believe we shall reap the fruits of it only by following the line of conduct I have indicated. In any event, I have a comforting and bidding faith in the indestructibility of the party which has so many times shown its right to live, and its power for good, and I am sure the reserve patriotic Democratic will, at the same time declare itself in the support of our country and of our party.

"My days of political activity are past, and I shall not hereafter assume to participate in party councils. I am absolutely content with retirement, but I still have one burning, anxious desire, and that is to see the restoration to perfect health and supremacy of that Democracy whose mission it is to bless the people of this country with peace, untrampled by clamor, unmoved by the busts of popular passion and uncorrupted by the lusts of power. I am sure that the Democracy of patriotism—the Democracy of safety—the Democracy of Tilden, and the Democracy that has been urged to participate in this occasion by those who have assured me that this handsome structure is to be dedicated tonight to the rehabilitation and reconstruction of the Democratic party under the inspiration of a name which during the days of Democratic strength and achievement, could hardly fail to inspire Democratic household. Such an assurance made to one who followed with hearty devotion the leadership of Samuel J. Tilden, when living, and who has since found in his career and fame the highest incentive to Democratic steadfastness, could hardly fail to tempt the temptation of my contented retirement from political activity.

Portion of Train Fell a Distance of Fifty Feet, Killing One Man and Injuring Several.
THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—M. J. SHELBY (N. C.) June 19.—A portion of a mixed train on the South Carolina and Georgia Extension Railroad fell through an approach to the bridge over the river this afternoon. The dead:

A dozen other passengers were also injured, but their names are not known.

MURDERED BY TRAMPS.
BRIDGEMAN (Mich.) June 19.—Charles Parks of Troy, N. Y., a paper-maker, was shot and killed some place between St. Joseph and Livingston, on a south-bound freight train last night by one of two tramps, negroes, who, after taking his life, robbed the body and fled. Parks, accompanied by M. Kelley and John Mays, had sought shelter from the rain in a box car occupied by two negroes. The negroes drew their revolvers and held up the three men, Kelley and Mays being relieved of a few dollars. Then they walked over to Parks, who was standing with his hands above his head, and just as they were about to shoot him the floor dropped. After rifling Parks' body the men jumped from the train and escaped. The murder was committed while the train was running at a rapid rate. Two suspects have been arrested near New Buffalo.

THE PHILIPPINES.
MANILA, June 19.—[By Manila Cable.] Col. Frank D. Baldwin of the Twenty-seventh Infantry who is stationed on the island of Mindanao has written a letter to the Sultan of Baco in which he sets forth the intentions of the American authorities. Col. Baldwin said, among other things, that the Moros did not intend to interfere with the religion, plurality of wives, or property of the Moros. The following reply has been received from the Sultan by Col. Baldwin: "We ask you to retire to the Lake Lanao district unless you will join our religion and adopt our customs. In case you do not so desire, all the Dattons will make war on you, because there is but one religion, that of Stamboul." Col. Baldwin says that the Sultans of Baco and Massin will have to be taken prisoners in order to make peace in Mindanao possible.

KANSAS WHEAT CROP.
So Large That Ten Thousand Harvesters in Addition to the Hands Already Secured are Needed.
THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.
KANSAS CITY, June 19.—There has been a serious miscalculation of the size of the Kansas wheat crop and the number of men required to harvest it. It was stated last month that no help would be needed, but there is a call for 10,000 men in addition to the number already secured. Laborers bound for distant points in Kansas are intercepted on the way by farmers who offer sometimes as high as $2.50 a day and board.
For the first time, Nebraska has asked Kansas City for harvesters.

of the President for big words lived near my home. One day, on seeing a cloud in the sky, he remarked: "My! What a big cloud! That is an encyclopedia coming!"

Would Care for the Picnic.

Little Harvey, aged 3, is at the picnic. His mother, on his return from the ash barrel, on his being sent with the picnic, said: "Oh, Harvey, you break heart, being so careless!"

He looked up, wondering, and said: "Div me piece, an' I put 'em in barrel!"

THE LADY OF THE NIGHT

A dim path leads to the Lady of the Night. She casts a shadow over the night. Her cheeks are bloom, but her eyes are bright. For the death of the soul is the death of the body.

THE LADY OF THE NIGHT

I was not by when her soul is dead. And why should the soul be dead? To scourge me over the world to see? The lady is alive to see. To sit like a ghost at her own door. Where a dead soul stares at her?

THE LADY OF THE NIGHT

In the bleak of winter, the lady is dead. When the winds over the mountain race. Or the storm-beat lilies have said: "I dwell in the dreary place. With grief that calls for a dead soul. Before that soul's dead end."

THE LADY OF THE NIGHT

And I cry to the gods to see her. From letter and thought and dream. To send the darkness to her. Or the fathomless deep to her. But the lady smiles unsmiling. And laughs my dreams down.

THE LADY OF THE NIGHT

I cry in vain to you, son of man. With the cry of the gods to her. I faint would die to the lady's hand. Though not as her soul but her hand. But I waken, as one in a dream. With prayers and dreams down.

THE LADY OF THE NIGHT

And the winter is long, and the summer is a sigh. Where the stars are a crimson glow. And the stars are waiting to see. While life, unheeding, burns in. And is lost like a dream.

THE LADY OF THE NIGHT

And Fate is thrall to the lady's hand. Night. In the dwelling of despair. And I pray all souls that love her. To say for me one prayer. That I may pass from the living. And the dead soul that is. (Frank L. Stanton, in "The Times")

SAN PEDRO CITIZENS TALK HIGH SCHOOL.

PEOPLE GENERALLY SEEM TO DESIRE SUCH INSTITUTION.

Wilmington Transportation Company's Business More Than Doubled Since Last Year, and Larger New Vessel is Soon to Be Provided.

SAN PEDRO, June 19.—Speaking of the recent reference to the High School question here, in this correspondence, Justice Downing said today: "San Pedro needs a High School and should make every effort to secure such an advantage for the school children. There are two communities that feel the same needs so far as the matter of a High School, and Lincoln is also talking High School, and Lincoln has expressed itself on the subject very strongly, so much so that the rather small town of San Pedro is being urged in order to keep their children in Los Angeles schools, several families have left Lincoln and taken up residence in San Pedro. It is a matter of fact that would be for these three communities to erect a joint High School building on land situated as nearly equidistant as conditions will admit. Such an arrangement, I think, would be very satisfactory to all parties concerned. However, I would like to see San Pedro have its own building. A tri-town arrangement would admit of a more perfect arrangement, and an amalgamation of that character would justify the belief that better results could be obtained."

A consensus of opinion leaves little doubt that the citizens of San Pedro want a High School. Whether they will consider a proposition for a joint institution with Wilmington and Lincoln is a comparatively new question, and also has to be ascertained just how the towns named will view the plan.

San Pedro offers such a proposal it may be the means of eventually winning these places into a change of name. Greater San Pedro would not sound half bad.

Six Hundred Dollars Netted Last Night for Their Unfortunate Ex-Comrade—Excellent Entertainment by Home and Foreign Talent.

One of the most satisfactory benefits ever given in this city was the one given last night at the Los Angeles Theater to Charles Fuselier, ex-assistant chief of the fire department. The net proceeds to be turned over to him are about $600. This is a very handsome sum, and is entirely to the gallant, unselfish efforts of his late comrades in the department. The theater was filled with them, their friends and families.

The program was not completed until 11 o'clock and was uniformly pleasurable. Hazel Salmon and Nellie Nelson, who are graceful child dancers, gave an exhibition of cake walking. E. Lowensky rendered several delightful selections on his violin and the grand Meritt showed some slight-of-hand tricks that were excellent. The dance in a suburban town near San Francisco.

Another well-expended money was realized from the entertainment at the Wednesday night, given by the San Pedro Dramatic Club, presenting "Under the Redwoods," a play in three acts.

The Butean Quartet had a very comical and pleasantly musical ballad in parody of the popular "The Blue Bird," and also an idyllic melody of the delights of a summer out on the water.

Capt. De Lancer told him to do so. Soon after getting possession of Esau the captain returned to the United States and the education of the ap-b-gan. For some time it seemed that the transition from his native tropical climes to the erratic climate of America would cut short a promising simian career, but by exercising constant care and keeping him from the slightest cold, Capt. De Lancer has preserved the life of his pet. With equal care and good fortune in the future Esau should live to be 40 or 45 years old.

Esau took kindly to the process of education, although at first he strongly objected to the garb of civilization, preferring the attire which nature had provided him. Capt. De Lancer had considerable difficulty in getting him to wear clothes, but one day the ape, attired in a dress suit, saw himself in a mirror, and since then he is not happy unless well dressed. During the afternoons Esau receives callers in an up-to-date cutaway walking suit and does evening dress. He is particularly about his linen and doesn't like it soiled. He has mastered most of the intricacies of his toilet, and every morning carefully brushes his hair before a mirror. He hasn't learned to shave yet, but he is still young.

Esau has a number of ways of entertaining visitors. He plays on a small piano, works a typewriter and spars and wrestles with Willy Washington. Willy is a coal black African about his own age and size and is a very expert and powerful fighter. The ape is stronger than the little darky, and the latter is sometimes a hardy wrestler. Esau also owns a dog, and playing with Rover is one of his delights. He has recently added impersonations to his repertoire and appears as "Oom Paul Kruger," a scolding old woman and a plantation slave of the old time.

About a year ago the ape was troubled by a defective tooth. Capt. De Lancer took him to a dentist in Buffalo and had the tooth filled with gold and a diamond set in the filling. Esau is very proud of his tooth and likes to have people examine it. He is also the happy possessor of a diamond ring and a gold chain, and he wears his toilet as a matter of course without one of them.

Esau is an early riser, and usually takes a morning walk about the position grounds. Eggs, potatoes, bananas and oranges are his principal food. He is a very clean animal, and correctly. He has developed a taste for tea, which he gravely sips with a spoon. He will attempt to do nearly everything he sees Capt. De Lancer do, and in that way learned most of his tricks.
